Git Cheat Sheet

Create a Repository

From scratch - Create a new local repository

git init [project name]
```

Download from an existing repository

git clone my_url
```

Observe your Repository

List new or modified files not yet committed

git status
```

Show the changes to files not yet staged

git diff
```

Show the changes to staged files

git diff --cached
```

Show all staged and unstaged file changes

```
git diff HEAD
```

Show the changes between two commits

```
git diff commit1 commit2
```

List the change dates and authors for a file

git blame [file]
```

Show the file changes for a commit at a certain file

git show [commit] [file]
```

Show full change history

git log
```

Show change history for file/directory including paths

git log -p [file/directory]
```

Working with Branches

List all local branches

git branch
```

List all branches, local and remote

```
git branch -av
```

Switch to a branch, my branch, and update working directory

```
git checkout my_branch
```

Create a new branch called new_branch

```
git branch new_branch
```

Delete the branch called my_branch

git branch -d my_branch
```

Merge branch a into branch b

git checkout branch_b
```

```
git merge branch_a
```

Tag the current commit

git tag my_tag
```

Make a change

Stages the file, ready for commit

git add [file]
```

Stage all changed files, ready for commit

```
git add .
```

Commit all staged files to versioned history

```
git commit -m "commit message"
```

Commit all your tracked files to versioned history

```
git commit
```

Unstages file, keeping the file changes

git reset [file]
```

Revert everything to the last commit

git reset --hard
```

Synchronize

Get the latest changes from origin (no merge)

git fetch
```

Fetch the latest changes from origin and merge

git pull
```

Fetch the latest changes from origin and rebase

git pull --rebase
```

Push local changes to the origin

git push
```

Finally!

When in doubt, use git help

git command --help
```

Or visit <https://training.github.com/> for official GitHub training.

Components

import React from 'react' import ReactDOM from 'react-dom' class Hello extends React.Component { render () { return

      Hello {this.props.name}

  }
}

const el = document.body
ReactDOM.render(<Hello name='John' />, el)
```

Use the React.js jsfiddle to start hacking. (or the unofficial jsbin)

Learning REACT

The Main Concepts

Components

A React component is an individual item that can contain other items. It's like a piece of a puzzle that when combined with other pieces represents your application.

JSX

JSX (JavaScript XML) allows us to write XML-like code for simplicity and elegance, and then it is transpiled into pure JavaScript function calls with `React.createElement()`

class HelloOwls extends React.Component { render() { return (
      Hello {this.name}/>
    );
  }
}
```

Props

A prop in JSX is the same thing as an attribute in HTML, except that you can pass it any data type that JavaScript supports. Once you've passed the data into it, you can easily access your data on `this.props`.

```
class Dashboard extends React.Component { render() { return <Chart title="Get Voltage" value={30}/>
  }

class Chart extends React.Component { render() { return <LineChart title={this.props.title} value={this.props.value}/>
  }
}
```

State

It's a place where you can store component data. State is going to be an object with any key-value pairs that we want to store there. Every component can have state.

```
class Clock extends React.Component { constructor(props) {
    super(props);
    this.state = { date: new Date() };
  }

  render() { return (

        <h1>It is {this.state.date.toLocaleTimeString()} </h1>
    );
  }
}
```

Events

Events in React work pretty much the same as in JavaScript, except that they're wrapped in something called a synthetic Event, which is basically a way to ensure that they work the same across all other browsers and devices.

```
<button onClick={this.handleClick}>Click me</button>
```

Lifecycle

Every component in React goes through a set of stages that are called lifecycle methods. There's a specific order in which these things run. Some of the widely used methods are: `componentDidMount()`, `componentDidUpdate()`

```
class Clock extends React.Component {
  constructor(props) {
    super(props);
    this.state = { date: new Date() };
  }

  render() { return (

        <h1>It is {this.state.date.toLocaleTimeString()} </h1>
    );
  }
}
```
